Preamble.

Whereas Joseph Bouchette, Surveyor-General of Lower Canada, hath for a long time been employed in collecting materials for, and hath now ready for publication a Topographical Map of, and Statistical Tables relating to this province; and whereas it is expedient that he be encouraged in the publication of his said works; may it therefore please your majesty that it may be enacted, and be it enacted by the king's most excellent majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the legislative council and assembly of the province of Lower Canada, constituted and assembled by virtue of and under the authority of an act passed in the parliament of Great Britain, intituled, "An Act to repeal certain parts of an act passed in the fourteenth year of his majesty's reign, intituled, 'An Act for making more effectual provision for the government of the province of Quebec in the North America,' and to make further provision for the government of the said province;" And it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, that when the said Topographical Map and Statistical Tables shall be published, it shall be lawful for the governor, lieutenant-governor, or person administering the government of the province, to subscribe for 100 copies thereof, to be afterwards distributed by an act of the provincial legislature, and by a warrant or warrants under his hand, to authorize the payment of such sum or sums as may be necessary to defray the expense of purchasing and importing the same, out of any unappropriated monies in the hands of the receiver-general of the province.

The District of St. Francis comprehends the whole of the county of Sherbrooke, and a great part of the counties of Stanstead and in the statements of OBSERVATIONS.

1st. The columns which have chiefly occupied our attention and time, as being a most important branch of the statistics of the province, are those of population, the clergy establishments, corn and saw-mills, factories and villages. The other columns are calculated partly from personal knowledge and partly from various sources of information that may be depended upon, and may be fairly considered as giving a correct general aperçu of the number of river craft, boats, artisans, &c. in the province.

2nd. Of the 39 protestant churches enumerated not above 25 are attached to parishes. The parishes that may hereafter be attached to the remainder are not at present laid out or defined.

3rd. Of the 191 Roman Catholic churches 4 are missionary churches; to which may be added 7 presbyteries used as chapels in as many parishes, and making up the complement of parishes in the province equal to 196, besides a few other projected parishes within the seigniories, and the site of churches fixed upon.

4th. Of the 20 convents, 6 only are extensive nunnery establishments in the towns. The remaining 14 are dispersed over the province for the education of females, and are generally governed by 2 or 3 nuns of the congregation.

5th. In the 10 enumerated colleges are comprised the extensive seminaries of Quebec, Montreal, Nicolet, M'Gill college, St. Hyacinthe, Chambly, and Ste. Anne's in the county of Kamouraska.

6th. With the exception of 3 breweries and 1 distillery in Quebec, 4 breweries and 1 distillery in Montreal, and a brewery at La Prairie, the others are minor establishments. The distilleries are chiefly for whiskey, and are most frequent in

7th. The number of ship yards will not appear surprising, when it is recollected that 39,900 tons of shipping were built

8th. About 65 of the enumerated river craft navigate between Quebec and Montreal, 59 between Matane and Quebec, and about 113 are employed in the St. Lawrence and Gulf fisheries. Of the keel-boats, about 713 may be employed in the fisheries of the river and gulf; 150 are pilot boats. The number of flat boats, batteaux and canoes, is not estimated, but it is known to be considerable.

9th. Exclusive of the pot and pearlash factories enumerated, many of the inhabitants of the townships keep potash kettles for making salts: their number may average 150.

10th. With few exceptions, the Roman catholic parish churches are built of stone, averaging in length from 100 to 140 feet by 50 to 60 feet in breadth. The roofs are generally covered with tin, and surmounted by spires, many of them 2 and several 3. The new cathedral church of Montreal measures 255 feet in length by 134 in width within the walls. Its estimated cost exceeds 96,000$. The presbyteries are chiefly stone, and generally large and commodious. Two chapels, called Chapelles du Reposoir, are frequently appendages to the churches in the country. About one half of them are built of stone. Their total number exceeds 300.

11th. Of the number of schools enumerated, 74 are supported under the act of the 41st Geo. III., and 50 are parish schools under the superintendence of the curés.

12th. Branch pilots for and below the harbour of Quebec, 126. Branch pilots for and above the harbour of Quebec, 39.
